Amanda Schiller

Clinical Operations Director for NHS Services at Vaccination UK Ltd.
United Kingdom

Summary

7 years' experience in successfully managing large public contracts valued at more than £30 million across multiple locations as a Clinical Director.

I am motivated and results-focused with a proven track record of leading large-scale programmes having delivered in excess of 10,000 vaccination sessions over the past 12 months.

A strategic thinker able to excel in challenging environments as well as being a positive communicator who is organised with strong analytical skills and a practical approach to solving problems.

Competent in compliance, ensuring responsibility for identifying and mitigating regulatory risk.

Consistently ensures that projects are delivered in line with budget, scope, schedule, risks, outcomes, prioritisation, value and benefits.

Experience

Vaccination UK Ltd.

Clinical Director for NHS Services

April 2016 - Present (7 years 7 months)

Hertfordshire, England, United Kingdom

Clinical Director and Governance Lead for all NHS commissioned immunisation programmes delivered by Vaccination UK. These include the School Aged Immunisation Service across 9 boroughs of northeast London, the Black Country, Herefordshire and Worcestershire and the childhood flu programme in Hertfordshire and East Anglia. In addition to these, I oversee the delivery of the infant BCG immunisation programme in Newham and Tower Hamlets and the infant Hep B programme in the Black Country.
